Our Story

Katy

Katy was born and raised in Henderson KY, and left as soon as she graduated high school. She traveled extensively, and explored the world of local food projects across the US and abroad. During her graduate studies in anthropology she met Hubert in Miami, and that's where their story begins. During their many years together in Miami, she always missed the quiet country farm that belonged to her great grandparents, but she never dreamed that she'd be able to turn that special place in to a vineyard, winery, cafe, event venue and resort!

Hubert

Hubert was born and raised in Paris, and grew up working in the restaurants that his father owned. Like most children, Hubert set off in a different direction from his father – becoming an engineer. After a few years in that field, he discovered that his true passion was in hospitality, and he moved to Miami to open his own restaurant. That restaurant is still open today after 20 years! When Hubert met Katy in 2009, she never dreamed that her hometown in Kentucky would draw the Parisian away from Miami Beach. For Hubert and Katy the land and family in Henderson, KY is better than any paradise they have visited. Join them to take in the natural beauty of Kentucky, and the deeply ingrained cultural heritage that is built in to every aspect of Farmer and Frenchman.
